NEW MAP OF THE COUNTY OF NEWPORT.—We have examined a new Map of the county of Newport and environs, which has just been published by Mr. H. R. Walling of Providence, no pains have been spared to have this Map accurate in all respects. The drawings of the towns are all complete; we have carefully examined them, and assure our readers that the Map is entirely reliable. The whole Map is on a large scale, and is very valuable and useful, and should be in the possession of every man in the County. It not only shows the public buildings, wharves and other objects usually located on Maps of this kind, but also every [private dwelling, is accurately delineated, and a large number have the owner's name placed opposite. It is neatly engraved, colored varnished and mounted on cloth and rotten, and is sold at the low price of three dollars. They may be had at PEEK'S book store, the only agency for this county.

FROM BILLY BOWLEGAS. The Florida Sentinel of the 11th last says: "A letter from South Florida speaks of a late interview between Capt. Casey, the United States Indian Agent, and Mr. William Bowlegs, as he signs himself. Capt. Casey set forth to Bowlegs the recent action of the Florida Legislature for the removal of the Indians, and told him that now was his last chance for a peaceable arrangement. That the United States authorities were his friends, and would not only see him comfortably removed and provided for afterwards, but would pay him well for going. But if he delayed, the Governor of Florida and his riflemen and long knives would be down upon him, and drive the whole tribe into the ocean.

"Upon this Billy scratched his head and thoughtfully inquired if the United States Government was really his friend and wished him well? Capt. Casey replied that there could be no manner of doubt about it. Well then, says Billy if you are my friends, just you stand still and I'll whip the Governor of Florida and his long knives down quick; and, in short gave Casey to understand that he did not value the sovereignty of Florida so much as 'the shaking of a squirrel's tail.'

THE BIBLE.—A certain space in the Glass Palace at London has been appropriated to the Bible Society, for the purpose of exhibiting specimens of the Holy Scriptures in one hundred and fifty different languages. This will be one of the most interesting spectacles at the World's Fair, inasmuch as it will show to what a surprising extent Christian effort has succeeded in rendering the Divine revelations of the Bible accessible to the many distinct tribes and nations to whom they were before, and but for missionary devotion and labor would forever remain a sealed book.

Boston, Feb. 25th, 1851.

Mr. EDITOR:—

Agreeable to my promise when I left Newport, I forward you herewith a few items, or, as Willis would say a few "dots of travel" during my short peregrinations from your "sea girl Isle." On my arrival at Providence, on the 22d, nothing was heard but opinions variously expressed, concerning the far famed ball to be given by the Infantry of that city, in commemoration of the birth day of the "Father of his Country." Will it suffice to say that I attended, no! I hear you remark, you lazy fellow give some of your "benighted" fellow citizens in the "desert Island" of Newport the benefit of your experience; well, then, I will proceed. The ball was held in the far-famed Howard Hall, immortalized by the voice and figure of Jenny Lind. As we entered, about nine of the clock, P. M., an array met our eyes which would be well worthy of description if words did not beggar our attempt. Conceive to yourself, if possible, a mingling of flags and flourishes, of soldiers sashes and ladies' scarfs, epaulets and diamond bracelets, and still you will not digest half the idea which I would convey to you of the spectacle presented to the stranger on entering this hall of beauty and song. Suffice it to say, that some six hundred were present, the music most excellent, the countenances most animated, and the refreshments rather more of the superlative order, than any thing I have yet mentioned.

On the next evening I visited the hall again, and what a change! The space which the evening previous had been filled by those of "the light fantastic toe," was occupied by benches. A deep line of bonneted and unbонneted females occupied the space which but a few hours previous was filled by those whose "eyes looked love to eyes that spoke again." It was the Concert of Parodi, and the seats were but half filled. The ball of the previous evening and the proximity of the Lord's day were the excuses alleged by the non-comers, for not attending to witness the efforts of one of the finest singers the world over heard. Another excuse which they were too modest to give publicly, I understand has been circulated privately, in a few select quarters, to wit: that it was sinful to pay two dollars for hearing Parodi, when they could hear the "Dell Ringers" for twenty-five cents. Poor Parodi, she seemed disengaged, yes, that glorious creature the embodiment of soul and song, she was disengaged and sang as if she felt charged, and they said, what do you think, those that knew her best, said she was tame. Oh! had they seen her this night, yea, this night when the whole Theatre rose in terror; but I forget that I have not mentioned my arrival here, and must explain.

It was announced that Parodi was to play Romeo and Juliet this evening, in Boston, I accordingly took the evening train from Providence, in order to witness the performance. Perhaps you are aware that the old Federal street Theatre has been turned into an Opera House; and a very fine one it makes too. This evening it was intensely crowded, Parquette and Boxes displaying a magnificence of beauty which I never before saw concentrated in such small space. Parodi performed the part of Romeo, in male attire, and the part of Juliet was enacted by a young lady bearing the euphonious name of "Virginia Whiting." It was her first appearance on any stage and although her notes were naturally weak and her voice seemingly of little power, yet under the inspiration I had almost said of the immortal Parodi, her voice became supernaturally strong, and after one of the acts, she was called before the curtain to receive, together with her inspired companion, wreaths and plaudits from the crowd. Parodi looked so pleased at the success of her friend, she obtained the esteem of all, returning she accidentally stepped on the train of Virginia who immediately preceded her, occasioning her slightly to trip, the good natured smile with which Parodi turned towards the audience, knowing that they perceived the accident, evoked from them a perfect thunder of applause. But it was the last scene but one, where Juliet lies as a corpse, and Romeo bends over her. As the curtain rose slowly to the sound of dirge-like music, the corpse of his love was discovered stretched upon the bier, while the impassioned Romeo crouched; the eye of the actress for a period seeming fixed on that face which of all on earth it most had loved; preternaturally a wild shriek of music, if music can ever shriek, burst from the very heart of the bending and inspired divinity; oh! that wail for the dead, that wild, wild wail! can one ever forget it with its might of desolation? yes, Parodi for it, it was too much for Parodi's heart. Her voice ceased suddenly, not in time, Parodi was in spasms! one of her hands grasped the shroud while her breast heaved convulsively against the coffin; a moment it was thought she was still acting, but a moment more sufficed and she was borne senseless from the stage. The curtain immediately fell and the last account I heard was, that she was still in a state of insensibility. G. W. P.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.

SENATE.—Mr. Seward presented a petition calling for information concerning the alleged abduction of Americans into Mexican bondage.

Mr. Holl introduced a resolution asking for the Mexican Minister's correspondence relative to the Mexican indemnity; which was laid over.

The joint resolution directing a United States vessel to be used to bring Kosuth to the United States, was taken up and ordered to be engrossed.

The House resolution explanatory of certain laws granting pensions to widows was passed.

The Senate insisted on the amendment to the military bill.

HOUSE.—The resolution reported yesterday, in reference to a dry dock in California was debated until the expiration of the morning session.

The post route bill was then taken up and passed.

After which, the House went into committee of the whole on the bill of the Union, and resumed consideration of the bill appropriating $3,180,000 for the payment of the last instalment to Mexico under the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25.

The tornado which passed over this city yesterday did serious damage to many of the steamers at the landing.—The Pioneer was driven under the wire bridge, and had her chimneys and pilot house blown off. The Geneva had her hurricane deck swept away. The Governor Meige, Cape May, Paris, Empress, J. Q. Adams and several others were injured. The loss on steamers alone is not far from $25,000. There is sixteen feet of water in the channel.

Three women, named Betsy McDonald, Bridget Convey and Nancy Kearns, were killed near the village of Hyde Park, N. Y., on the 18th inst., by a large mass of rock, weighing about 1000 pounds, which was thrown from a blast, and descended directly upon the building in which they were, crushing them in a horrible manner.

RUIN TO CINNAMON PAPERS.—CLEAR POSTAGE.—The postage bill now before the Senate overlooks the fact that there are numerous monthly and semi-monthly newspapers, and practically except them from the proposed reduction of rates on journals issued weekly or often. They are thus left to rank with "other newspapers, circulare, handbills, engravings, &c." on which there is a charge of one cent an ounce for all distances within 300 miles; two cents within 1000 miles, &c. This would cut off the distant circulation of nearly all the agricultural, scientific and religious periodicals which are mostly published less frequent than weekly. Surely this cannot be the intention of Congress. If not, the bill should be amended so as to make a consistent provision that "papers published semi-monthly shall be charged one half the rates of weekly papers; and those published monthly one fourth of those rates." This would be but simple justice, and it ought to be done.—Com. Adr.

CHASM TOWER CROWN DOWN.—The Falls Iris, of Saturday, says this Observatory on Mount Eagle was lifted by the wind from its foundation on Saturday last, when the wire cables by which it was stayed were broken, and the whole mass fell to the ground a heap of ruins. Buffalo Commercial, Monday.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says that the lioness of Raymond & Co's Menagerie on the 16th ult., gave birth to three whelps. This royal progeny has been taken from her majesty and given in charge of a bulldog slut, who acts as wet nurse, and is to have charge of their education.

DISCHARGED.—The medical practitioner in New York, by whose malpractice it was said that Barnum's fat boy lost his life, has been discharged, the grand jury having refused to find a bill against him.

FROM HAYTI.—Letters from Cape Hayti, of the 7th inst., received at Boston, say that the sloop of war Albany had arrived there from Havana, to look into the matter of the arrest and detention in prison of the Captain of American brig Leander, on an ungrounded charge of smuggling. The authorities had acknowledged the justness of the claim for damages, and agreed to pay the sum demanded ($3000.) but this was only a verbal one.

Capt. Piatt said that he should dispatch a statement of the matter to Washington, and ask leave to return and enforce the payment if it was not before voluntarily made. The authorities at Cape Hayti had visited Capt. Piatt, of the Albany, on board, and were much pleased with their reception.—The Albany sailed on the 6th on her return to Havana. Coffee was scarce, and American provisions plenty.

THE ATLANTIC'S FAIR.—The consignees of the Atlantic in Liverpool gave her entire freight list to the Cunard Co., and a boxes besides of 3000 pounds, for forwarding her freight in the Cambria being a total loss to the owners of the Atlantic of $35,000.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.—Articles from the United States intended for the World's Fair in London, will be received, if they reach there on or before the 15th of April.

7 days later from Europe.

HARVARD TELEGRAPH OFFICE,

Feb. 26th, P. M.

The steamer Europa, with 61 passengers, arrived at 8 o'clock, having left Liverpool at 11 A. M., on the 15th inst.

The steamer Atlantic had been towed round to Liverpool, to undergo necessary repairs.

The attention of the English public is chiefly occupied by the exciting debate going on in Parliament, relative to the papal aggression question.

Semi-official advices from Dresden state, that with the sanction of Russia, Austria and Prussia have agreed to reconstitute the Central German power; each nation taking the presidency by turn.

FRANCE.—The Government measure, the dotation bill, was rejected on Monday by 356 votes against 281. Montebello made a strong speech. He regretted the dismissal of Gen. Changarnier, but between the General and the President there was a real incompatibility.

The division of the party of order had begun with the electoral law of May 21st, which startled them by the success of its own victory. The majority thought of dividing the skin of the bear which they thought had killed, although they had only muzzled him. After some interruption M. Montebello represented the President as the expression of authority, which had need of defence. The speaker was often interrupted by the Left.

The Moniteur of Tuesday, in reference to the loss of the bill, contains the following from the head of the French republic:

The President of the republic is deeply touched with the efforts made to organize a national subscription in consequence of the rejection of the bill on the expenses of representation, which has just taken place, and he thanks all those who have entertained that thought, which is an imposing manifestation of sympathy and approbation for the conduct of the President, but he deems it his duty to sacrifice a personal satisfaction for the repose of the country. He knows that the people rendered him justice, and that is sufficient for him.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.
For the Cure of
COUGHES, COLDS,
MOAISENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOP,
ING-COUGH AND CONSUMPTION.

An offering to the community this month, celebrating the remedy for diseases of the throat and lungs, it is not our wish to trifle with the lives or health of the afflicted, but frankly to lay before them the opinions of distinguished men and some of the evidences of its success, from which they can judge for themselves. We sincerely pledge ourselves to make no wild assertions or false statements of its efficacy, nor will we hold out any hope to suffering humanity which facts will not warrant.

Many proofs are here given, and we solicit an inquiry from the public into all we publish, & if they will find them perfectly reliable, and the medicine worthy their best confidence and patronage.

FROM BENJ. SILLIMAN, M. D., L. L. D.,
Professor of Chemistry, Mineralogy, &c.,
College, Member of the U. S. Hist. Med.
Phil. and Scien. Societies of America and Europe.

I deem the CHERRY PECTORAL an admirable composition from some of the best articles in the Materia Medica, and a very effective remedy for the class of diseases it is intended to cure.

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Nov. 1, 1849.

PROFESSOR CLEAVELAND, of Bowdoin

College, Maine.

Writes—"I have witnessed the effects of your CHERRY PECTORAL" in my own family and that of my friends and it gives me satisfaction to state in its favor that no medicine I have ever known has proved so eminently successful in curing diseases of the throat and lungs."

REV. DR. OSGOOD

Writes—"That he considers "CHERRY PECTORAL" the best medicine for Pulmonary Affections ever given to the public, and states that "his daughter after being obliged to keep the room four months with a severe settled cough, accompanied by raising of blood, night sweat, and the attendant symptoms of Consumption, commenced the use of the "CHERRY PECTORAL," and had completely recovered."

HEAR THE PATIENT.

Dr. Ayer—Dear Sir: For two years I was afflicted with very severe cough, accompanied by spitting of blood and protracted night sweats. By the advice of my attending physician I was induced to do so till I considered myself cured, and ascribe the effect to your preparation.

JAMES RANDALL,

Hanover sq., Springfield, Nov. 27, 1849.

This day appeared the above James Randall, and pronounced the above statement true in every respect.

THE REMEDY THAT CURES.

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 10, 1847.

Dr. Ayer: I have been long afflicted with Asthma which grew yearly worse until last autumn, it brought on a cough which confined me in my chamber, and began to assume the alarming symptoms of Consumption. I had tried the best advice and the best medicine to no purpose, until I used your CHERRY PECTORAL, which has cured me, and you may well believe me, gratefully yours,

J. D. PHIELS.

If there is any value in the judgement of the wife, who speaks from experience, here is a sensible worthy of the public confidence.
